TRI-WEEKLY TRAIN SERVICE SOUTH

The much-talked of train service between Mirror and Calgary is at last a reality, although in a modified form. Instead of the twice-a-day passenger service as reported in the Calgary papers, there is a tri-weekly mixed, but the service is an improvement over the old, and is likely the forerunner of an improved service in the near future. The first train left Mirror yesterday (Thursday) morning for Calgary.

The inauguration of the regular passenger service to look after the summer trade will take place in May. The freight service will start next Monday, and this service will also be a tri-weekly service. A temporary loading platform will be erected and sidings will be constructed at Calgary.

A mixed train will be run each way three times a week between Calgary and Mirror. The leaving time at Mirror is 7:30 a.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, arriving at Calgary at 5:15 p.m. each day. Trains will leave Calgary at 8 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving at Mirror at 6:05 p.m.

Passengers must leave Edmonton by the regular train at 0:25 p.m. the previous evening and stay over at Mirror all night. It will also be necessary to sleep the night at Mirror on the return journey.

Last week we committed a re-port of the masquerade, on Friday, Feb. 13. The prizes were awarded as follows: Best dressed lady, Miss M. Gilbert; "Cigarette girl"; most original costume, Miss D. Simpson; "Buster Brown"; comic costume, lady, Mrs. A. L. Barton; "Old Irish Lady"; gentleman, H. P. Crittall; "Old Irish gentleman."

When the Great Northern train en route to Vancouver, B. C., was nearing Samich, last Tuesday night, three bandits held up the train. One of the robbers commanded the passengers in the day coach to hold up their hands, but instead three passengers grappled with him and were shot to death. The robbers jumped from the train and escaped. A reward has been offered for their capture.

A course of special addresses will be given on Thursdays, at 8 p.m., during Lent, in St. Monica's Church, Mirror. Next Thursday, Mar. 5, the subject is: "The Knowledge of God through general stages; Moses."

The sunny weather of the past few days has carried off a big slice of snow.

The life of an editor was saved the other day by a silver dollar in his pocket. A crank shot at him and the ball struck the dollar. Now should we happen to get shot before you pay up your subscription and there is no dollar to stop the ball, we shall always presume you might have saved our life.

The Transcontinental Townsite Co. are preparing to build two piers at Mirror Beach this summer, and work is now under way. Frank Tulloch left Thursday morning for Wetaskiwin to get a pile driver for use on the piers, which will run into four feet of water. The piers will be from 75 to 100 ft. long.

The placing of these piers at the Beach will be a great accommodation to pleasure seekers during the coming summer.

Cruelty To Horses

Farmers as a rule are kind and sympathetic and abhor the use of the beasts of burden is something rarely witnessed in this country. However there have been several occasions this winter when horses were allowed to stand on the main street for hours without any blanket protection. A case occurred last Saturday, when a horse was tied to a post and exposed for hours to the wintry blasts. In a great many places a society exists for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and it should be the duty of someone to see that neglected animals are properly housed and cared for. Our town has ample stable accommodations and money and good care bestowed upon the dumb brutes brings rich returns.

Linen Shower

A linen shower in honor of Miss MacKirdy, was given at the home of Mrs. Roy C. Slife, last Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 21st. A great many useful and ornamental gifts were presented by the guests. A dainty lunch was served at five o'clock, Misses Orville Sorum and Molie MacKirdy serving. Those present were: Mrs. A. G. Suggett, Mrs. K. B. Iveson, Mrs. W. C. McCormack, Mrs. T. M. Brooks, Mrs. J. H. Sorum, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. H. Rob-

VEDEX RURAL SCHOOL PROBLEM

The meeting held last Monday evening in the schoolhouse for a further discussion on Rural School Consolidation was well attended, and a number of ratepayers expressed their views on the proposed amalgamation. A. Thomas occupied the chair.

Several of the speakers, while favoring the principle of consolidation were anxious for a little more information as to the cost of the new system, &c. Mr. Thibauden, in his address at a previous meeting had given an estimate of the cost, but something more definite was desired.

It was also stated by the supporters of consolidation that Mirror people should place themselves on record as being willing to assist the farmers in securing improved educational facilities, regardless of the cost.

It was decided however, that before taking a vote on the question, that W. F. Puffer, M. P. P., be asked to address a meeting for the purpose of clearing up a number of problems that have arisen since rural consolidation was first discussed.

Did you ever pick up a paper published at a strange town and see a large showy advertisement? If so, you are likely to say to your neighbor, "That man must be doing an immense business," or forming a resolution to visit that firm at the first opportunity?"

Fool in the Ring (Boys).

Dirck the chimney lad, a boy of about 10, was a great fool and was on the ground a circle about two feet in diameter. Boy No. 1 comes forward, places his foot on the ring, begins to jump and having the jump, carries the body over this foot. He then folds his arms and waits the attack of boy No. 2, who comes forward and begins to jump, but the first boy has a long, long hops forward. No. 2 hops around No. 1, who keeps changing his position to where he can get a good chance to attack No. 1 and while hoping to attack him out of the circle. If he succeeds, he wins, and takes the crown. Boy No. 3 comes forward to attack him, and so on. After the contest No. 2 gets both feet on the ring and attacks boy No. 3. The game is forward to attack No. 4. The player in the ring, so long as his foot is in a circle, may not leave the attack, but must remain within the ring. The arms always remain folded and the jumping must be done with the shoulders. Even with the rules, the first attack is made is had by putting two sets—as against the one in the ring.

Peg away, my lad, peg away
If you the prize would win,
And the world would change Who talk of giving in.

Success may be long in coming,
But the world will wait on steadily At Perseverance, jill.

Peg away, my lad, at your game,
The world will wait on steadily Consider the deeds of others.

not think it's worth the while,
But play it out to the end, lad.

STUTTERING.

Treatment by Which the Affliction May Be Cured.

There is no cure for stuttering. This does not mean that no stutterer can be cured—from far it—but that there is no treatment which is sure to cure. If a stutterer is taken to a doctor, with whom the affliction is first noticed, and carefully treated, he can sometimes be cured, but generally not.

Dr. Frank A. Bryan of New York, writing in the Medical Record, says the first thing to do is to make sure that there are no physical causes in throat or nose, such as enlarged tonsils or adenoids. The child must be taught to breathe through his nose, not when speaking or crying or in any process of working, and the child must be tickled. All causes of excitement must be removed. Fresh air, strenuous cleanliness, plain, nourishing food, and a good deal of plenty of sleep in a dark room are essential.

Medical treatment is of great importance. Any measures that will increase mental poise are of incomparable value. The doctor must be interested with desire to recover what he only a had. He must be persuaded to study the great art of speaking correctly. Thus, by careful patient work, the speech teacher, the teachers and physicians, will be gradually cure himself, or at least so improve as to make the affliction case to be serious.

WILD PIGS OF BRAZIL.

Fatal of a Jaguar That Fell into the Mongo Park started out on his African expedition—the first serious attempt that was ever made to explore the "dark continent"—on Oct. 24, 1766.

The black-skinned, negro-skin, set out from Gambia, on the west coast, and plunged fearlessly into the vast, which held him in white man's eyes.

It took them to the case of two Brazilian rivers.

"Suddenly they heard, close at hand, a tremendous roar of grunting and snorting."

"'Pigs!' exclaimed Elliot. 'Roar for support and we will go to the jaguar's lair.' This was the only command of Lopes, and he led the way in the height moonlight toward a little open space among the trees.

As they neared the clearing, and there they saw, not one pig, but a drove of fifty or sixty, all furious with rage and fury, and the jaguar, who had been scared into a corner, was baying at the top of an all hill, about six feet feet high.

"'Don't fire,' said Elliot. 'It's not a minute. We haven't got too much time, and we can't afford to lose any.'

"The jaguar, with his tail well up, in the air, out of reach of the bows, was taunting about the nose of the antelope and the deer, and the antelope and the deer were fighting and trouncing singing; while Johnson was discovered rounding the United States of America, and the deer was baying at the top of the hill.

had his bow ready to fire.

Map Showing Banks In Western Provinces

A new edition of a publication known as a "Bank Map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta" has recently been prepared and is now being distributed from the Railway Bank Board of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa.
This interesting compilation shows the location throughout the three Prairie Provinces, at a very recent date, of each branch of the various Canadian chartered banks and, in tabular form, the total number of branches of each bank in Western Canada, complete in formation with respect to the capitalization, location of head office, etc. of each.

In addition to other interesting features the map shows that in 1913 there were 85 branches in operation throughout the three Prairie Provinces in comparison with 106 in 1903.

In spite of the special information which has been incorporated in the publication the map will no doubt prove of considerable value to all persons interested in Western Canada on account of the complete railway information shown. Each system is indicated by a separate colour making it a very simple matter to determine the location of a particular railway and to observe at a glance which system serves certain points throughout Western Canada.

The various post offices, at which government saving banks have been established by the Post Office Department are likewise given in table form, enabling the public to picture a general knowledge after a few minutes perusal of the map of the banking facilities available at any point throughout Western Canada.

Copies may be obtained free of charge upon application to F. C. Lynch, Superintendent of the Railway Banks Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

SUGAR IN THE STATES Reduction in Price Was Brought About by Competition

Practically the only article of universal consumption that shows a big decline in price in the last year in the United States is sugar, the cost of which is about 8 per cent. lower than it was in 1912. In fact the price of sugar has not only declined in 1913 as compared with 1912, but it is the only commodity in a big list on which has been secured by the United States mean of Lake's statistics, which shows the following for the last year period. While oats, colza, wheat, barley and numerous other products that the farmer raises and sells have increased very greatly in price, sugar, which is a factory product, has risen but slightly in price. The reason, when according to popular conception would make the reduction in its price all the more remarkable. The situation with regard to sugar is that domestic competition has been encouraged by the protection afforded in the home market so that the consumer has been able to buy sugar at a lower price.

What is true of sugar is true of many other lines of manufactured goods, whether it is United States or Canada. As a result of the protection given to the home market the consumer has been able to buy at a reduced price, domestic manufacturers may invariably be relied on to vie with each other in competition for the home market.
Reasonable competition encourages efficiency and insures fair prices to the consumer. This is the ideal towards which all protective policies work.

HINTS IN DAIRYING

How You May Increase Profits From the Dairy

Weed out the unprofitable cows.

Fed economically.

Care for the milk produced in the way that it should be cared for.

The question is not "What is the average production of the herd?" but "What cow in the herd is a profit-maker?"

Study the feeding problem in order to get maximum returns for your outlay.

It is important to know what it costs to feed a cow, and it is also worth the farmer to know how much is left in your pocket after the bill is paid.

In caring for milk cleanliness and cold are the two great essentials.

Milk may become contaminated in many ways, and in anything that we do to keep it clean and safe the bill of milk means milk of better flavor and better keeping qualities.

Keep the separator and its surroundings clean.

Set the separator to take a cream rich in butterfat and make from it the proper amount of butter.

Cool the cream to a low temperature before adding to the milk.

Never add warm cream to the cool milk.

milk.

milk.

Choose the temperature that will keep the cream in nice, firm granules from 5 to 30°.

Butter should be salted to suit the consumer, and this salt should be evenly distributed and thoroughly dissolved.

CHEAPER FENCE- POSTS

Preservatives Prolong Life of the Poorest Woods

As a result of the many inquiries we regard to the preservation treatments of fence posts, the Forest Branch, Ottawa, issued a circular on this subject. The great advantage of these treatments is that they keep evergreen wood free from decay for ten years or fifteen years. Many kinds of trees, including some of the poorest woods, last when used as posts only four years or thereabouts; after treatment, such as described, they last twice or three times, even four times as long. Creosote, which costs in Canada, from ten to twenty-five cents a pound, is the best preservative. When boring holes in posts, the wood should be treated with a brush or a nail brush. This is the simplest way, on a small scale, probably the cheapest. Other methods require that the posts be kept covered in tank of hot creosote for a longer or shorter period. Besides lengthening the life of the post, the preserving treatment also tends to reduce the cost of the fence. In other words, for a given cost of fence one can buy more posts if the posts can be used for a longer period.

consumption that shows a big decline
in price in the last year in the United States is sugar, the cost of which is
in 1912. In fact the price of sugar
has not only declined in 1913 as compared with 1912, but it is the only commodity in a big list on which

English Boy Writes Upside Down—German Lad Sees Well Only in the Dark

Doctors were recently much interested in the case of a two-year-old English boy of Chester Street, Durban, England. The lad has one of the most wonderful pairs of eyes ever set in a human head. While writing he not only writes upside down, but sees well only from right to left, and as a result his work appears as ordinary handwriting would be reflected by a mirror.

It is thought that some defect in the brain causes young Durban's brain to carry on its normal task. Persons of normal vision objects are reflected on the retina (the membrane at the back of the eye) upside down, but the brain transposes the right side up. In the case of Durban the brain reflects the right side up. To reverse the vision.

During recent years several children have been discovered who possess peculiar eyes. Lionel Brett, a German lad named Schaefer, although he was born blind, and in the daytime had wonderful faculties of sight in the darkness of the night and could pick up pins from the floor of a pitch dark room.

All Have Two Hearts

It was reported that a doctor at Edmonton, Alta., had examined a family of four, composed of mother and three children, each of whom has two hearts. The medico was called to attend one of the children, for childhood diseases, and he had an unusual discovery made when he was examining the child's right side as well as the left. This led him to examine the two other children, and the mother, with a similar result. This remarkable two-hearted family bears the name of Pevsler. The oldest son, John, Allen and Doris are thirteen, eleven and four respectively. It is imagined that the hearts of the mother and her three children grow in two parts. That is to say the components of the heart are not joined in the right ventricle of the heart (the chamber which receives the blood from the auricle and veins) and the right auricle growing on the right side of the heart, and the left auricle and the left auricle on the left.

A Movable Heart

A man named Hermann of Hungary, has an extraordinary heart. He has the strange power of dislocating the heart from its normal and proper position on the left side of the body to the right, keeping it there for several minutes at a time. While Professor von Bogenhausen declared that this man with his singular power over his muscles that he could move each of them as he pleased, and in this way he was not only able to move his heart from side to side, but stop his pulse from beating.

Miss Tarter, of New York, on the island of Trinidad about forty years ago, was devoid of physical feeling, and medical men were of the opinion that there was no connection between the sensory and motor nerves in her body. She had progressive pain, pain and disease, and could not control the heating of her heart, stopping it at will and permitting it to beat again. There is a woman living in Spain who has a pair of horns, five inches long, on her forehead. The inflation of the horns and their gathering above the woman's heart, which afterwards grew into hard, fleshy lumps. At the end of four years from the commencement of the disease a pair of horns made their appearance.

General Optimism Holds The Fort

General Optimism is holding the fort in Mirror and throughout Central Alberta and Western Canada. He and his forces have successfully stemmed the tide of pessimism, which threatens to overwhelm those who toiled so darkly upon business of the future.

"There is no stopping business in this part of the country," he said to his followers and others. "It's got to go on. It will go on in spite of the gloomy talk that we have heard from various sources. No one can force hard times on this country. We are going ahead, irresistibly, by force of our own resources. This country and its progress are bigger than any obstacles that can be placed in the path of one or the other, or both."
